Contents

No. 1

PAGE

A Message to the Field Artillery 1
Wm. J. Snow, Brig. Gen. Nat. Army, Chief of Field Artillery.

Remarks on Trench Artillery 5

Coöperation Between Infantry and Artillery in the British Army 14
Major D. M. McRae, Infantry, British Army.

Lecture on Use of Artillery in Defensive 24
Major Legrand, French Mission.

Firing Charts and the Reconnaissance Officer 44
Major Walter S. Sturgill, Field Artillery.

A Protractor for Field Artillery 102
Major George Payne Nickerson, N.A.

A Field Method of Calculation for Adjustment with Lateral Observation 111
Lieut. S. C. Spear, 315th Field Artillery.

Field Artillery Fire for Beginners 116
Col. A. U. Faulkner, 344th F. A., N. A.

Disc for Spotter Practice 128
Capt. C. A. Chapman, 81st Field Artillery.

Current Field Artillery Notes 130

The United States Field Artillery Association Constitution 132

The American University Union in Europe 138

Roll of Honor 141

Editorial 142
A Chief of Field Artillery.
Editorial Difficulties Under Our Constitution.
Field Artillery Training at Yale.
College R. O. T. C.'s.
Service Books.

Book Review 154

Index to Current Field Artillery Literature 160

No. 2

General Comment on Anti-Aircraft Firing 165
Lieutenant Colonel Reille, Head of Artillery in the French Mission.

The Belgian Field Artillery in the Present War 182
Lieutenant E. Van Erde, of the Belgian Army.

The Training of the Artillery Horse 208
Colonel William P. Ennis, Field Artillery, United States Army, Director of the Department of Matériel, School of Fire for Field Artillery, Fort Sill, Okla.

356165

CONTENTS—Continued.

PAGE

Notes on Target Practice of a Regiment of Field Artillery, National Army 235
Colonel A. B. Warfield, Field Artillery, National Army.

Notes on the 77-mm. Matériel and Ammunition 251

Notes on Flank Observation, Bilateral System 265
G. W. Blattner, First Lieutenant, 344th Field Artillery.

Flank and Forward Observation of Fire 270
School of Fire for Field Artillery.

A Range Correction Device 275
Captain Peter H. Ottosen, C. A. C., U. S. Army.

Notes Concerning Firing Exercises of Reduced Terrain 279

Current Field Artillery Notes 289

The United States Field Artillery Association Constitution 300

Editorial 309

Roll of Honor 315

Book Reviews 316

Index to Current Field Artillery Literature 318

No. 3

The Long Range Guns 321
Major J. Maitland-Addison, R.A.

Observation Balloons 342
Lieutenant Crivelli, French Air Service.

Artillery Information Service 349

American Drill Regulations and "Artillery Firing" 363
Department of Gunnery, School of Fire for Field Artillery, Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

The Field Artillery Central Officers' Training School 370

Our Motorization Problem 381
Major Joseph W. Keller, F.A.

Training Gun Crews 387
Colonel Ralph McT. Pennell, Field Artillery, U. S. Army.

The Modern Attack on an Entrenched Position 392
Colonel H. A. Bethell, C.M.G., R.F.A.

Notes on the New German Light Trench Mortar 7.6 cm. (3 inch) ... 404

Liaison in the German Army 410

Organization of a Rolling Barrage in the German Army 417

Accompanying and Infantry Batteries 422

CONTENTS—Continued.

PAGE

Current Notes 427
Field Artillery Training in the United States.
Notes on Organization of German Divisional Field Artillery.
Notes on Tactical Organization of German Artillery.
German 15-cm. Yellow Cross Gas Shell.
Artillery in Recent Attacks.

Editorial 442
Status of Amendments to the Constitution.
War Department.
C'est dure mon Dieu, mais que voulez-vous c'est la guerre.
Oil-hole diagrams.

Roll of Honor 455

Book Reviews 457

Index to Current Field Artillery Literature 461

The United States Field Artillery Association Constitution 467

No. 4

Field Artillery—A Retrospect 477
Major-General Wm. J. Snow, U. S. Army, Chief of Field Artillery.

The Field Artillery Central Officers' Training School 484
Captain Raymond Walters, Adjutant General's Department, U. S. Army.

Measures Taken by the German Artillery to Carry Out Preparations for Attack Without Betraying the Intentions of the Command ... 504

The Tendency of Design in Modern Field Artillery 513
Lieutenant-Colonel Charles J. Browne, Ordnance Department, U. S. Army.

The Scientific Preparation of Fire in the German Artillery 527

German Artillery Equipment 535

Civilian Officers in the Field Artillery 542
Lieutenant Colonel Robert E. Coulson, Field Artillery, U. S. Army.

German Precautions to Disguise Intentions 553

Details of Construction and Operation of the Minature Range 560

Plan of Defense of a Divisional Sector 566

Notes on 155-mm. Howitzer Matériel 572
First Lieutenant Milton Harris, 9th Field Artillery, U. S. Army.

German Artillery 578

Notes on the Tactical Employment of Field Artillery 584

Diagrams for Obtaining Data 591
Captain K. P. Williams, 150th Field Artillery, U. S. Army.

Contoured Trajectory Scales 597

CONTENTS—Continued.

PAGE

Current Notes 600

Suppression of Barrage Fire and the Assignment of Sections of Artillery to First-line Troops and to Support Troops.
Artillery in Open Warfare.
German Artillery Firing Manual.
Dispersion of German Artillery Fire.
Use of Anti-flash Packets by the German Artillery.
Gas Shell Firing in the German Army.
New German 15-cm. Yellow Cross Shell.

The United States Field Artillery Association 620

Editorial 623

Wanted—A Permanent Chief of Field Artillery.
Shall We Take the Backward Step?
An Editorial Appeal.

Roll of Honor 636

Book Reviews 641

Index to Current Field Artillery Literature 642

L
6
F